

She doesn't have any vision in both of her eyes. Her left eye is physically gone to begin with...

TWITCH

Can you hear me?

The condition of the gangrene at her limbs is really bad. The body is too painful to look at. There are a lot of whip marks, cuts, bruises, and lacerations all over her body. Most of the nails have been ripped off. It looks like most of her teeth, except for a number of her molars, have been pulled out. Fortunately, her hearing doesn't seem to be lost, but I'm more worried about the internal damages.

I couldn't turn a blind eye to what dangers were imminent to come to her in the future, had I refused to treat her and bring her under my protection.
